

“Invisible Children: Children’s Media, Diversity, and Forced Migration” Symposium, 14 September 2018, King’s College London

Participant Feedback

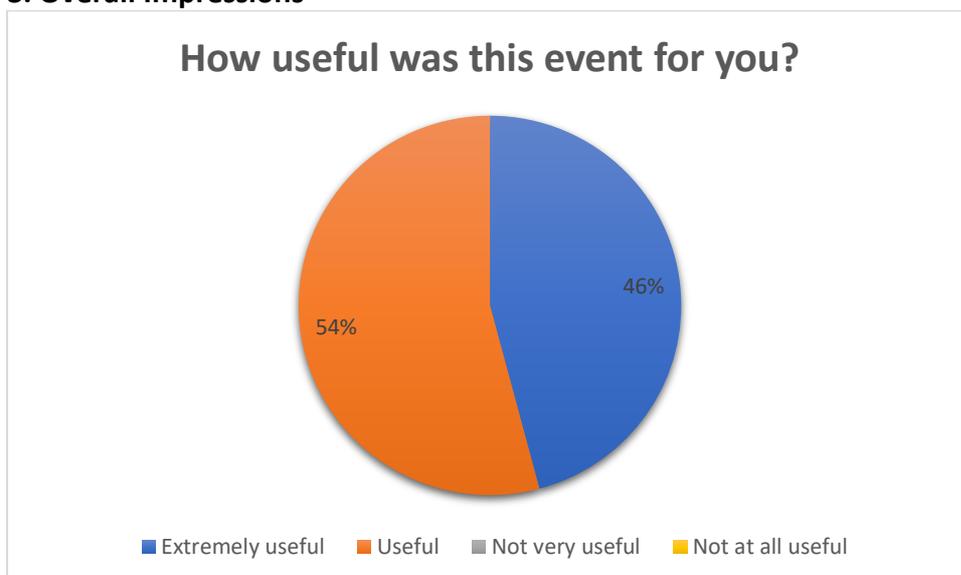

1. Participant Responses

The workshop was attended by 62 participants. This evaluation is based on the feedback forms of 24 participants.

2. Recruitment

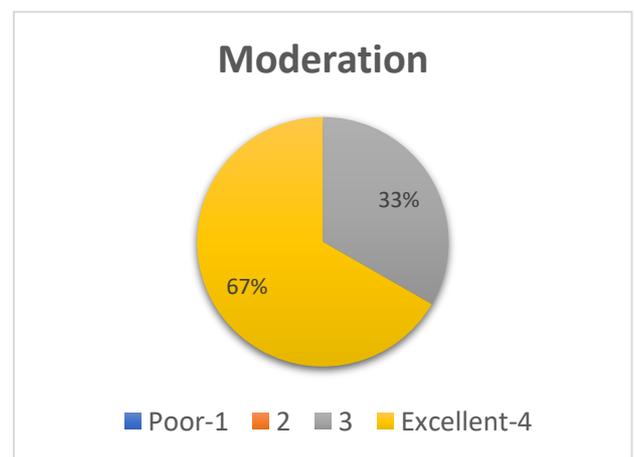

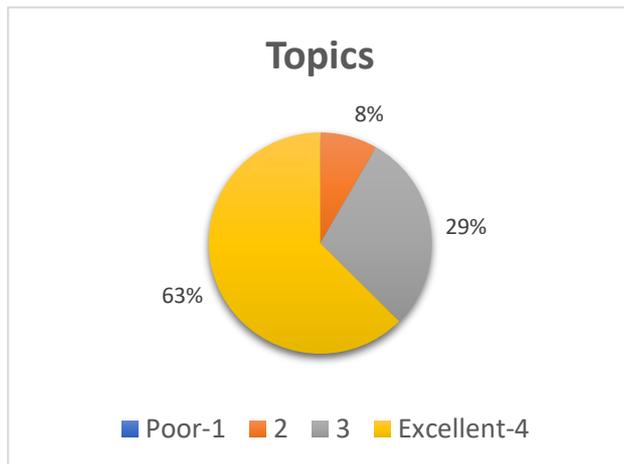

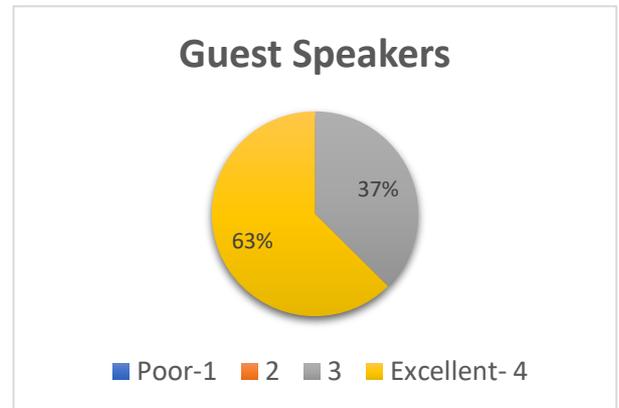

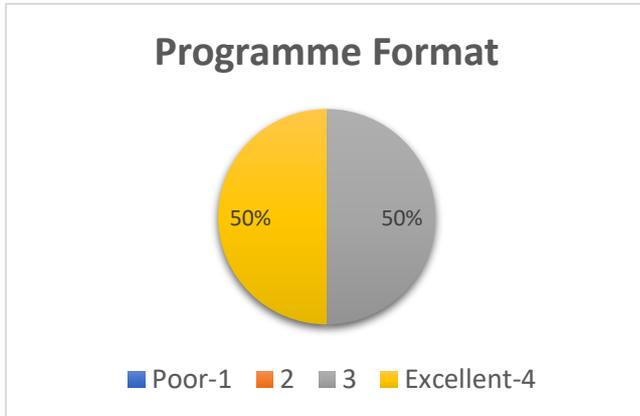

3. Overall Impressions

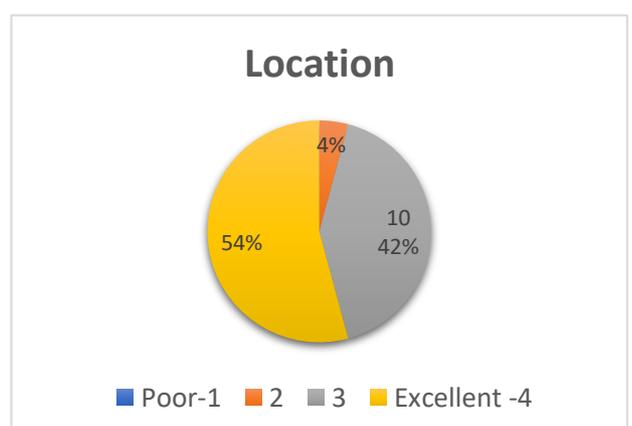

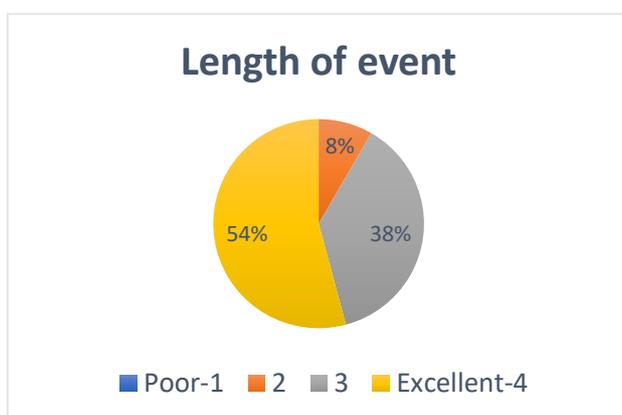

4. Symposium Programme and Organisation

How would you rate the following on a scale of 1-4 (1= Poor/blue, 2 = Acceptable/orange; 3= Good/grey; 4 = Excellent/yellow):

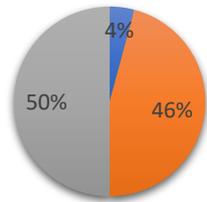

"It's exactly the discussion I need to hear in this new UK context. Thanks."
"It's super interesting and inspiring to share experience from all different perspectives and meet colleagues. I would love more practical action points for future."

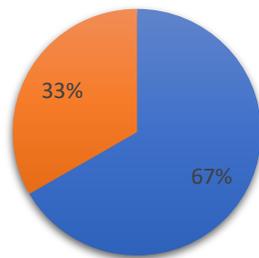

5. Knowledge and Information

Please rate your level of knowledge about the topic PRIOR to the symposium

■ Expert Knowledge ■ Very Knowledgeable
■ Some Knowledge ■ No Knowledge

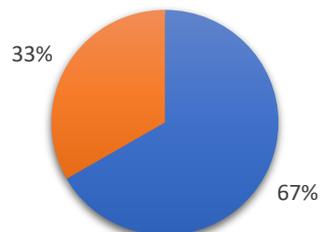

Please rate your level of knowledge about the topic AFTER the symposium

■ Improved a lot ■ Improved a little ■ Stayed the same

6. Dialogue and Networking

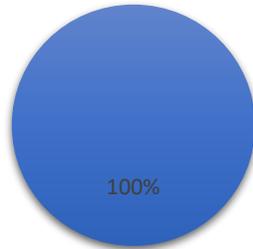

Has the event enabled you to network with other stakeholders?

■ Yes ■ Maybe ■ No

7. Symposium Materials

Are the resources (Project Report to Stakeholders) provided at this event relevant to you?

■ Yes ■ No

8. Impact and Practice

Are you likely to use these resources in the future? How will you use them? (E.g. in production, finance, regulation, advocacy)

■ Yes ■ No

Comments:

"In planning for relevant projects"

"I made interesting contacts and heard important fact and opinions about the issue"

"Advocacy purposes"

"We are not exactly working in the cinema field as we do a variety of project including cinema. When we do we rely on expert like the ones I met today."

"In production"

"In background research"

9. Other Responses

Any other comments:

"Thank you"

"I would love to meet some more makers and really coproduce some or exchange shows"

"Congratulations. I am very happy to be here. I hope we continue working together frequently."

"It was very educational. I will be happy to join you at other similar events."

"Good specific meeting-symposium that shows a lot and new perspectives (and problems)"

"Very thoughtfully curated and exceptional speakers who, thankfully, spoke their minds and were not afraid to challenge ideas/others' assumptions. Well done and thank you."

"You are great! And we shall meet again...soon!"